April Rainbows

by Lenore Hetrick

"I come," said April, "with a basket of rainbows.
I don't think there's anything prettier to see.
Perhaps that explains why the children love April.
You know they are really devoted to me."

"I have a rainbow for each little child,
And if they will come to see me today,
Down in the meadow where the crocuses grow,"
Said April, "I'll give every rainbow away."
